

TEACHING THE POWER OF DEMOCRACY

This is a privately owned website and/or blog. For the purposes herein, the site owner(s) will refer to this privately owned personal website as a "blog". The opinions of the KV Council and other young people do not necessarily reflect that of Kids Voting --Kids Voting is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization teaching the power of democracy. This blog is for youth by youth!

This blog includes writings from multiple authors. The views and opinions expressed in this blog represent only those of the particular author(s) and not those of the people, institutions or organizations that may or may not be referenced, including but not limited to any and all content referencing any government official and/or entity. The views expressed in this blog are those of the individual author(s) and do not in any way reflect the official policy or position of Kids Voting Dayton Region and its supporters.

This blog includes links to other websites, media organizations, and blogs owned and operated by other independent parties. These are provided as a means of convenient access for you to the information/opinion contained therein. We are in no way responsible for the content of any other sites or any products or services that may be offered through other sites.

Any and all threats of bodily harm to any person or any threats of damage to public, or private property is strictly prohibited from being expressed on this blog, and rest assured that any such episodes will be promptly reported to the proper authorities if they are perceived to be a credible threat by the site owner and/or individual, independent authors. We will cooperate with those authorities to aid them in any way we can should anybody make such threats, so be warned.

Strong opinions which are expressed herein by any author, including but not limited to the site owner regarding and/or pertaining to any branch, office, or officer of any Government on any level within the United States shall not in any way be construed as a threat, or to be any form of contempt being expressed toward such entities. Regardless of how any content shared herein by any author, including but not limited to the site owner may impact the reader, view, or listener it is the site owner's sole intent to entertain, and to POSITIVELY stimulate the reader and/or listener, and NOT to incite or encourage violence, or lawbreaking of any type against the entities referenced. The site owner shall aggressively assist any and all legal authorities in the prosecution of any individuals, or groups who violate this policy.